OWYHEE NEWS NOTES

The musical recital given Wednesday evening by Misses Bernice McLafferty and Marlon Lowe was a success in every sense of the word. A goodly crowd was in attendance showing that Owyhee abounds in music lovers. Kingman Colony was also well represented. The violin solos by Mr. Lee DeGoede were much appreciated. He is a talented musician having had several years instruction in Europe. Miss Bernice McLafferty excels in piano and is a soloist of rare ability while Miss Marlon Lowe as pianist and soloist is so well known as to need little mention save to say her rendering and interpretation were (if possible) better than usual. The following program was presented to an interested and appreciative audience:

Violin solo, double numbers, Mr. DeGoede, Miss Lowe accompanist; Piano solo, Miss Ruby Bradley; Piano solo, Gordon McLafferty; Piano solo, double number, Juanita Bigelow; Piano duet, double number, Miss Lowe and Miss McLafferty; Vocal solo, double number, "Spring Awakening" and "Try Smiling", Bernice McLafferty; Piano solo, double number, Miss Lowe; Trombone solo, Arthur Hanhardt of Caldwell accompanied by Miss Oretta Hanhardt; Piano solo, double number, Miss McLafferty; Reading (in dialect) Mrs. Chas. Schweizer; Vocal solo, "An Indian Cradle Song" and "The Bells of St. Mary's", Marlon Lowe; Violin solo, Lu DeGoede; Piano solo, Florence Airey, of Caldwell; Sacred solo, "O Loving Father", Bernice McLafferty; Sacred duet, "Abide With Me," Misses Lowe and McLafferty.

Brady Fewler's threshing is cleaning up the grain in fine style this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cantrell and Mrs. Amos and little daughter were overnight guests at the Kygar home Sunday returning Monday to Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bradley motored to Nyssa Saturday where they rented a house as they intend moving to town to put their daughter Ruby in High School.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Bigelow and family were guests to supper at the Claude Wilson home, given in honor of Mrs. Lue Grimes and family. Elsie Grimes returned with them for a few days visit.

Doc Pullen got his Briscoe from the garage, where it has had quite a sojourn, and with the family motored to Ontario Sunday where they were guests of Mrs. Pullen's brother Ralph Reed and family.

Mr. Lakness, telephone manager of Ontario, met with the people at the Owyhee school house Thursday evening. He states that the lines out this way from Nyssa are not self-supporting and that if people do not put their phones back the company will be obliged to go before the Public Utilities Commission and ask permission to discontinue the lines.

Sheepmen Stand Fast; Hold on the Industry is Coming Back Now

The following taken from the Live Stock Reporter, published by the big commission firm of Clay, Robinson & Company so tersely sets forth the situation in the sheep industry that it deserves the consideration of everyone living in this section. In a recent issue the Reporter said:

THE FUTURE OF THE SHEEP INDUSTRY

Such liquidation as the sheep industry is going through has no precedent, warranting the assertion that a band of well-kept breeding ewes will be good property at no distant date. During the first half of the current year sheep marketing in the United States was about 1,300,000 in excess of the corresponding period of 1920, while the countryward movement of feeders and breeding stock diminished 500,000. Not only has the west been sacrificing flocks to meet financial exigencies, but farm flocks, acquired at excessive prices during the 1919 and 1920 boom, have been thrown overboard regardless of prices.

How the sheep population of the pastoral states has shrunk during the past ten years is indicated in the case of Wyoming which ranked first in 1900 with 5,397,161 head, but by the new census had only 1,832,255. Montana, credited with 5,386,746 sheep in 1910, dropped to 2,022,919 in this census which credits the entire country with 34,984,000 head in 1920, compared with 52,447,861 ten years previously. Some of these days the survivors of the liquidation period will find themselves in possession of highly remunerative property, as the wool market will eventually emerge from its present comatose conditions and the lamb market is making a daily display of virility.—Breeder's Gazette.

The above is a remarkable statement and every sheep man who reads it should stop and think. Where will our mutton industry land if this rate recession goes on? A loss of 17½ millions of sheep in ten years, just about 50 per cent, is beyond belief. Those government figures are borne out by private statistics. An outfit which the writer looks after had 112,000 sheep in 1910; today less than 50,000 head. The dry farmer took up the range and the sheep disappeared? What will be the result? As the above paragraph states, a band of ewes will be wonderful property where you have the range and equipment to handle them. A lamb on the market the past few days has been worth more than the ewe which produced it on the range. At present sheep are below the cost of production. With 18-cent wool and lambs at 7 to 11 cents a pound, according to quality, it is a physical impossibility to raise them at a profit. The winter of 1919-20 and the terrific deflation in prices stampeded us. We are, however, seeing daylight in this business. There is already a scarcity of fine wools in sight; there is a good demand for fat lambs; confidence is returning in our textile industries. It looks as if the silent strike against high prices of clothing is reaching an end.

Sheepmen, stand fast; hold on; trim your expenses; get back to nature, and stay with your flocks.

Here's the Corn Binder You Want

The John Deere is the kind of binder you want in your corn fields. There's little work for you in operating it, and it's easy on the horses. It's the biggest improvement made in corn binder construction for many years.

JOHN DEERE CORN BINDER

The Binder With Power Carrier and Quick Turn Tongue Truck

The John Deere is equipped with a power bundle carrier. To dump the bundle only slight pressure on the carrier trip is necessary. The bundles are delivered all in one pile away from the path of the horses--this is a labor-saving worth-while feature.

You will like the Quick Turn Tongue Truck. It takes off all neck-weight from the horses and enables them to turn at the ends freely and easily. This truck makes the horses' work a lot easier.

The John Deere does good work in any field in which a corn binder can be operated. It has a wide range of adjustment which makes it possible to operate it in extremely tall corn.

It is equipped with roller and ball bearings, 17 sets in all, which lighten the draft and decrease the wear.

It has three packer arms and four discharge arms on the regular attachment instead of two commonly used on other binders. This insures prompt discharge and complete separation of the bundles.

In every particular you will find the John Deere Binder is built on a quality standard that means real satisfaction and profit to you.

Come in and let us show you other important features on this better binder.
